Breast Cancer

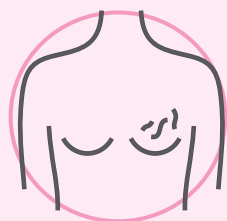

It is important to be aware of any changes in your breasts.

A lump, or swelling in your breast, chest or armpit.

Nipple discharge (if you are not pregnant or breastfeeding), which may have blood in it.

A change in the skin of your breast, such as dimpling (may look like orange peel) or redness (may be harder to see on black or brown skin).

A change in the shape or look of your nipple, such as it turning inwards (inverted nipple) or a rash on it (may look like eczema).

A change in size or shape of 1 or both breasts.

Pain in your breast or armpit which does not go away – breast pain that comes and goes is usually not a symptom of breast cancer.
